

LATEST TENTS PROMISE GREATER COMFORT AND VALUE FOR FAMILY CAMPERS

Larger families and those campers looking for additional living space to meet a variety of needs in different weather conditions will benefit from the superb new rain safe side annexe that features on the new Boston 500A and Boston 600A tents from the 2015 Easy Camp Tour Collection.

The provision of a versatile, enclosed, spacious side annexe (pictured right) adds a further level of protection to that campers already appreciate in the large front porch that defines the Boston range. Not only is it a sheltered place in which to remove and store wet, muddy clothes and footwear in order to maintain a dry living space but it is also an ideal place to keep outdoor toys and furniture safe under cover.

The Boston range has already established its credentials as true family tents that are the perfect balance between quality, performance and features in an affordable package. The new Boston 500A (pictured left) and Boston 600A are the latest in the four-model range of easy-to-pitch tunnel tents that includes the compact three-berth Boston 300 and four-berth Boston 400.

These new tents have evolved from the popular and time-proven Boston 500 and 600, sleeping five and six respectively in single rear bedrooms split in two by a zip-down divider. The attractive tents provide large living areas with tough full sewn-in groundsheets and a fire retardant waterproof outer with a 3,000mm hydrostatic head and fully taped seams. Carefully positioned vents ensure maximum airflow to keep the interior cool during the day and to control condensation, while large windows let in plenty of natural light – curtain panels

Space can be further extended in the 500A and 600A by using an optional awning while comfort, insulation and maintenance can be enhanced with the addition of a carpet and footprint.
