

NEW OUTWELL INFLATABLE TENTS FOR SIMPLE EASY PITCHING

The 2015 Air Collection introduces a new audience to the delights of Outwell inflatable tunnel tents through the use of the latest Outwell Air Stability System. This delivers a simplified and easy method of pitching to maintain function whilst extending the appeal to campers new to the inflatable tent concept.

Outwell Air tents and awnings have individual tubes that are inflated separately via inflation valves that are placed outside the tent for easy access, using the efficient two-way pump (pictured below) with pressure gauge supplied with each tent.

Practical design features address safety, stability, ease of use and comfort to improve the camping experience. The streamlined good looks provide practical weather-beating performance besides chic appeal enhanced through the use of brand's exclusive Outtex 5000 flysheet fabric with a 5,000mm hydrostatic head, in its signature sage green with a grey roof.

Each design is tested at the in-house test facilities to ensure a correctly pitched tent will withstand Force 9 storms. Further protection from water entry and insects is offered by the Outwell Sealed Ground System with a durable PE groundsheet while the Outwell Easy Pegging Systems provide enhanced stability and easy pitching. Outwell trademark luminous guylines provide a highly visible reminder to minimise accidents.

The collection also benefits from Outwell features like Outwell Guyline Retainer System, external doors that zip to the groundsheet for an improved seal, and the use of the Outwell Wave-shaped Hanging Point System (pictured above) that reduces stress on the Universal Inner seams.

The collection comprises six models in two styles – the Clipper (pictured left) is based on the popular and time-proven Outwell Birdland design while the Corvette (pictured below) is a new style that features a large front annexe.

Clipper tents come in three sizes, sleeping from three and up to five people. They comprise a large living area with Universal Inner. A large front canopy provides protection from sun and rain, and optional Awnings offer the extra space needed for longer holidays.

The three Corvette tents sleep up to seven and have a similar rear floorplan to the Clipper but feature a front door panel that can be fully opened to catch the best of the weather. In lieu of an optional awning the L and XL models also feature a large front porch with detachable bathtub groundsheet for versatility and easy cleaning.

Optional extras include footprints and carpets, and Outwell produces a comprehensive range of sleeping bags, mats, furniture and accessories to match.

Air Collection features include:

Aerodynamic Storm Protection – the aerodynamic shape of the tent ensures a stable pitch. Wind tested against the Beaufort Scale to strong gale.

Outwell Easy Pegging System – this is the proven way to ensure the right pegs are used for the right job. Simple, but highly effective, three types of pegs are used to anchor specific areas of the tent.

Universal Inner tent – allows zipped access between two bedrooms, or can be used to create one big bedroom, or used to take down and roll away one side to increase living space.

Outwell Wave-shape Hanging Point System – the good-looking design of the Outwell Wave-shaped Hanging Point System spreads the strain created when the inner is suspended from the outer tent, along the whole of its seam rather than having any stress concentrated in a single area where it can cause damage.

Outwell Sleep Comfort Rating – to aid market comparison we include the quoted number of people that an Outwell bedroom can sleep as stated by the industry standard. However, we also quote our own Outwell Sleep Comfort rating to recommend the number of campers that a tent can sleep comfortably.
